TURKEY BANKRUPT; ALLIES MAY GET CONSTANTINOPLE

State Historical and Natural History Society
Crown Jewels Are Sold and Loans Arranged; Greek Leader Says Peace but Week Off

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The Bulgarians are devoting their chief attention to the bombardment of Adrianople and an attempt to capture the Gallipoli peninsula and so take the Turkish forts in the rear. An official dispatch issued at Constantinople indicates that the Bulgarians have been successful in their first operations in the latter quarter and, according to a Sofia dispatch, the capture of Gallipoli is the chief object of the Bulgarians for the time being and no serious attempt will be made to force the Tchataljai lines.

The same dispatch says that the Bulgarian attack on Gallipoli is supported by the Greek navy in the Gulf of Saros. Fifty thousand Bulgarians were landed along this coast last November, and it may be presumed that during the armistice this force was strengthened by artillery.

May Get to Constantinople.

Should the Bulgarians capture the Turkish forts, there is nothing to prevent the Greek fleet from entering the Dardanelles, where in the opinion of naval officers, it easily could defeat the inferior Turkish fleet, in which case

Chinese Loan May Fall Through; Bank Powers Unfavorable

PEKIN, Feb. 5.—The Chinese minister of finance presented today a letter to the six power group of bankers, detailing the circumstances which presented the signing of the loan agreement and the consequent failure of the bankers' pledge to make immediate advance. The minister points out that the government is in urgent need of funds and that failure to obtain them will place the country in a dangerous position and adds:

"According to the proposed agreement, the six-power loan was secured by the salt revenue. Should any portion of this hereafter be hypothecated as security, a loan contracted with another party would be necessary proportionately to reduce the $15,000,000 as stipulated in the six-power agreement. In the event of a future agreement with this group:

"It was not my original intention to make such a condition, but there has been so much delay on your part and so many side issues have been pushed forward that I am constrained to do, however reluctantly, I feel to take such a course."

Thus while the loan field in China apparently is still open to the six-power group, it now also is open to the first counter, wholly or in part.

Antiwar Demonstration.

"There is not a cent in the treasury, and there are no means of getting money until peace is concluded. Meanwhile, the country is drifting to ruin and bankruptcy."

A great antiwar demonstration occurred Sunday in front of the war office, at which the Young Turks were publicly denounced as "murderers and thieves." Mahmoud Scherbet Pasha appeared on the balcony and tried to make a speech, but was greeted with opprobrious epithets.

"The misery in the Turkish camps is indescribable. It has been bitterly cold, with a heavy snow; the soldiers are ill-fed and badly sheltered. Smallpox, enteric fever, dysentery and pneumonia have replaced Asiatic cholera."

"It is understood that the forces at

OSTEOPATHS AND CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS CLASH OVER MEDICAL EXAMINATION BILL

Senator Helen R. Robinson Would Oust Sen. Hecker for His Attacks on Colo. Women

By WALTER LAWSON WILDER, special to The Gazette.

DENVER, Feb. 5.—The prediction that there would be a lively discussion when the medical bill came up in committee of the whole was fully realized in the house this afternoon. Dr. Alfred Seaman, the draft was safely tested past the Christian Science hippocamp on one side, only to run hard and fast aground on the reef of osteopathy on the other side of the legislative channel. To change the metaphor, every doctor of the assembly had a variant opinion. Dr. Wright of Denver, who is a lawyer; Dr. Rowan of Murray, who is a physician; Dr. Kennedy of Red Cliff, who is the author of the bill; Dr. Tait of Durango, who is a osteopathic sympathizer and studies other minor doctors, examined the corpus delicti and expressed their opinions with the usual rights when doctors disagree.

The first amendment offered when the clerk finished the reading of the lengthy bill was one approved by the Christian Scientists and accepted by the committee. It provides that the prohibitions of the bill shall not apply to treatments by any sect or person, who are mental or spiritual, where no medicine is administered. This was adopted unanimously, 114 to 1, and it was felt that the greatest danger to the bill had been passed. An amendment was next presented providing that nothing in the bill shall be construed as prohibiting the practice

O'BRIEN GIVEN TOTAL $152,461

BOLLES LOSES IN SUIT FOR FORTUNE

IF NEW TRIAL DENIED, DEFENDANT WILL APPEAL CASE TO STATE SUPREME COURT

WILLIAM O'BRIEN, an attorney of Colorado Springs, was awarded judgment for $152,461.68 against Richard J. Bolles, formerly of this city, by a jury of 12 in the district court yesterday morning.

Approximately $100 of the judgment was for legal services said to have been rendered by O'Brien to Bolles. The remainder was for money advanced and interest from July 1, 1912.

The judgment given O'Brien was the largest ever awarded in El Paso county in a money demand suit. The case, which was regarded as the most important tried here in many years, was one of the longest, occupying nearly full days and part of two evenings.

O'Brien made no comment on the verdict. Henry C. Hall, one of his counsels, stated that it was a substantial verdict, but that they felt they were entitled to and expected more.

When the verdict was returned Bolles was not in the courtroom. Attorney J. A. Orr, who represented him except to the verdict, and was given 20 days in which to file a motion for a new trial.

Attorneys for O'Brien excepted to the verdict, giving judgment for the plaintiff.

The case went to the jury Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The jurors were divided on the first ballot, $60,000 being the minimum and $250,000 the maximum. An agreement was reached on the sixth ballot taken a few minutes before midnight.

A statement from the jury thanking Judge J. W. Shear for his kindness and courtesy during the trial was given when T. A. Poote, foreman, handed the verdict to the clerk. The court complimented the jury upon its patience and the consideration given during the trial.

The jurors having been summoned specially for the O'Brien-Bolles suit were excused from further attendance when the verdict had been returned.

Two Million Dollar Bill to Have Government Aid 1915 Show Meets Opposition

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Opponents of the bill to appropriate $2,000,000 for government participation in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition practically forestalled action yesterday by a filibuster in the house to-night.

The house adjourned without acting on the measure, many members voting for adjournment, believing the vote would be taken Wednesday. That day has been set aside, however, for the count of the presidential electoral vote and business in the house is adjourned. It was suggested that it hardly will be possible to get the exposition bill up at another time.

Representatives of Maine, Vermont, Gardner, Collier and Sisson led the fight against the bill, arguing that no appropriation should be made because San Francisco was approved by Congress of its exposition by promising that the government would not have to spend a cent. Representative Léonard declared that the provision for seven commissioners at $5,000 each a year for nearly four years "comes nearer to a piece of graft than anything I have seen in the house for a long time."

Representative Heflin of Alabama, chairman of the exposition committee, and other advocates of the bill insisted that since the United States officially had invited the nations of the world to participate in the exposition it would humiliates itself by failing to send an exhibit of its own.

SUBWAY INJUNCTION IN NEW YORK STILL STANDS

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Supreme Court Justice Hedrick late this afternoon denied the application to vacate the temporary injunction restraining the execution of the subway contracts. This decision permits the injunction to stand at least until tomorrow, when it is turnable.

French Capitalists to Finance Denver Scheme

DENVER, Feb. 5.—Milton Smith, attorney for the Denver Reservoir and Irrigation company, received a telegram this afternoon from Arthur Day, who has been in Paris conducting negotiations for financing the company's project near Denver, stating that a syndicate of French bankers had approved the plans and advanced all necessary money. Day does not state the amount secured, but it was the intention of the company to ask for an advance of about $1,000,000.

Governor Sulzer Tells New York Legislature That He Will Probe Problem.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 5.—No exchange reform legislation, which enacted until everyone interested has had a chance to express their views on the several bills created by Governor Sulzer, and introduced to the legislature today. While one of these measures would fix a maximum rate of interest of 10 per cent on loans, the governor said tonight he was not committed to such a proposition and left the question of enacting legislation calling for a reorganization of the New York Stock Exchange was being held in suspense until further information is available.

I am not committed either to the bill fixing the maximum rate of interest or 10 per cent or to the question of incorporating the New York Stock Exchange," said the governor. "It is for the legislature to decide whether such legislation would be detrimental to business interests. ## PROBE ALLEGED COALING FRAUDS

GOV'T ROBBED OF THOUSANDS BY FUEL CO'S

Officials Placed Under Guard to Appear Tomorrow Before Grand Jury

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Subpoenas served today on John L. Howard, president of the Western Fuel company, and other officers of the corporation, summoning them to appear on Friday before the United States grand jury, announced the beginning of federal investigation into an alleged customs fraud similar to the sugar trust weighing cases in New York.

According to government officials who are in charge of the investigation, the alleged frauds cover a period of six years or more. In the subpoena issued today, the officials of the fuel company are directed to bring to the grand jury all books of the corporation showing the business transacted since 1906.

The basis of the inquiry will be the statements of David G. Powers, formerly assistant superintendent of the fuel company, who is now a special agent of the treasury department. According to Powers, connivance with the chief engineers of American ships that coal in this port netted the Western Fuel company many thousands of dollars at the expense of the government. The tariff of 1894 imposes a tax of 45 cents a ton on foreign coal, with the provision that this tax be remitted in case the coal is used by American ships. Powers' charge is that, when the Pacific Mail steamers took on coal from the Western Fuel company's barges, the chief engineers certified to a larger amount than was received, and the coal company was enabled thereby to collect a larger "drawback" from the government. Virtually all the coal used at this port is shipped from Australia and New Zealand, and, therefore, subject to the "drawback" when sold to American ships.

United States District Attorney John J. McNab caused a guard to be placed tonight over the offices of the Western Fuel company. He said the engineers and officials of the Pacific Mail Steamship company also would be summoned to testify before the grand jury.

FRISCO ROADS DENIED RIGHT TO ISSUE NOTES; "OVERCAPITALIZATION"

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Denying the application of the United Railroads of San Francisco for permission to issue $2,350,000 of 6 per cent five-year notes, and of the Market Street Rail road company, a subsidiary corporation, to issue as collateral for these notes $2,160,000 of 5 per cent bonds, the state railroad commission scathingly rebuked the corporation today for what it termed the "evils of overcapitalization."

According to the commission's finding, approximately $40,000,000 of the corporation's bonds will fall due in 1927, while "there will be approximately $23,000,000, the face value of which the company will be unable to pay at that time." An investigation of the sinking fund, according to the state commission, showed that the fund was composed partly of notes issued by the United Railways Investment company, which owns the stock of the United Railways company. This is called by the commission "exchanging with their owners their own promises to pay and setting these up as sinking fund investments."

An item of $300,000, paid out May 25, 1910, as four years "back salary" to Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads company, "suggests the need of a thorough investigation, in the language of the commission, "to determine the items claimed by the applicant as operating expenses over a term of years."

The company declared also today a quarterly dividend of 5 per cent, which places the common stock on a 20 per cent annual basis, an increase of 24 per cent quarterly.

TOBACCO MELON CUT; DIVIDENDS ARE $14,000,000

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—More than $6,900,000 will be distributed among holders of the common stock of the American Tobacco company from a 16 per cent extra dividend declared today. Like the $40,000,000 "melon" divided last week by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, this extra dividend results from the supreme court dissolving the old corporation and represents proceeds of the sale of certain treasury securities in accordance with the decree of dissolution.

The declaration today makes a total of $14,000,000 in extra dividends received by the stockholders since the old American Tobacco company was dissolved.

The company declared also today a quarterly dividend of 5 per cent, which places the common stock on a 20 per cent annual basis, an increase of 24 per cent quarterly.

BOMB SENDER SAYS CONFESSTION IS TRUE

Revenge Motive and Shifts in Plea Lead to Doubts of Man's Sanity

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—After repudiating his earlier confession, that he constructed and sent the bombs that killed Mrs. Helen Taylor and endangered the life of Judge Otto A. Rossky of the court of general sessions, a year ago, John Paul Farrell, the apartment house janitor who is under arrest for the murder of Mrs. Madeline Herrera, in a bomb explosion Sunday night, changed his mind as to his guilt tonight, and said his original story was true. His frequent shifts of ground, his many contradictory statements and other vagaries leave little doubt in the minds of the authorities that whatever may be thought of the truth of his story, he is not responsible mentally.

Fugitive now awaits action of the grand jury. He was remanded to the Tombs by the coroner today, after a brief examination, at which he would say nothing about the explosion Sunday. Before his arraignment, he said he had no knowledge of the manufacture of the so-called Taylor and Rossky bombs. After reaching the Tombs, however, he asked to be allowed to make a fresh confession. In this he reiterated his statements of sending the bombs in revenge.

The police, while mystified by Farrell's contradictory stories, say he has confirmed his connection with the bomb that killed Mrs. Herrera, but have not established his guilt of the other crimes to which he confessed.

Objections to the alleged invasion of state rights were made by several senators. Senator Works of California insisted that states alone should have the right to supervise and fix water power rates.

WATER POWER MAY BE PLACED UNDER FEDERAL CONTROL

Revere Motive and Shifts in Plea Lead to Doubts of Man's Sanity

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Conflicting claims of the federal and state governments to control over water powers situated within the states, marked the opening of the debate of the Senate today over the Connecticut river dam bill through which it is proposed to establish the principle of federal control of water power.

An agreement was made for a vote on the bill on the legislative day of February 11, but it is expected it will be several days later than that when the vote is actually taken. Senator Burton of Ohio, leader of the faction in the senate which favors control by the government over the rates and charges of powers, defended the measure today, and will resume his speech tomorrow.

"The time will come when there will be national supervision over these water power rates, just as there is over railroad rates," said Senator Burton. "It will be necessary to regard water, as well as land, as an asset of the nation which must be so controlled as to promote the general welfare and as far as possible afford equal opportunity."

U. S. MAY PAY CLAIM
AGAINST MEXICAN GOVT. WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Claims aggregating $71,000 for damage to American citizens in El Paso, Texas, and Douglas, Ariz., during the fighting in the first days of the Madero revolution, are to be pressed upon Mexico for payment, according to a resolution adopted today by the Senate.

Senator Smith of Arizona declared himself in favor of having the United States pay the claims and seek reimbursement from Mexico.

The smallest electro-dynamo in the world was exhibited recently before the French academy of science. So small is this dynamo that it has been considered one of the most expensive pieces of American property.

Household Economy

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large amount of sugar. If you take one pint of plain syrup, add ½ pint of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Piney, 1000 gr. worth in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—nearly stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, laryngeous asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pines is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, resin, pitch and oil, and the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pines and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pines, or will get it for you. Send to The Piney Co., El Paso, Texas.

Now we've issued a "double quick march" order to one lot of our finest suits.

TURKEY BANKRUPT

Turkia have been reduced to 120,000,000, which is considered ample to defend the empire. Large military expenses have been sent to Constantinople, where they now are being paid. This is a task of sending a fleet of 100,000 men, because of Red Sea, Constantinople, the Bosphorus, but such a venture is impracticable in the present state of the Turkish organization. The Turks are not to starve the men who attempted to leave the coast.

A constant effort is to be made to prevent the Turks from capturing Constantinople. The sultan has been sent to the coast of Marmara where the men are encamped. All the Turkish transports and warships were sent to the direction with nine fighting vessels, under strong escort. The flying fleet reported that the Turks had manned Red Sea harbor.

THE WAR RESUMED

THE doom of Turkey, as far as its position as a European power is concerned, is clearly spelled by the resumption of hostilities at Adrianople. The failure of the Ottoman government to make peace on terms offered by the allies probably deprives it of the last chance to save a shred of its possessions in the Balkan peninsula, and it is doubtful now whether even Constantinople will remain under the Crescent when peace is finally made.

In one way the armistice has been an advantage to both contestants, for they have had two months in which to bring up fresh supplies, strengthen their positions, rest their troops and secure the recovery of their sick and wounded. In such a case it might be assumed that the chief advantage would be with the Turks, inasmuch as they are the aggressors, and the people spend—and in some measure, they save—in proportion to their earnings. A reduced pay check in the workingman's envelope never yet brought him happiness and prosperity merely through its imposition of the necessity of economy. It is easy enough to talk of the ways and means whereby the householder can reduce the cost of living by using cheap cuts of meat, etc., but the plain fact is that most of this talk is bungo, and whether it is or not, nobody who is used to an established standard of living can bring himself to a lowering of that standard without a decided wrench. The man who is accustomed to eat beersteak for dinner does not like to adjust his appetite to salt pork.

Just the same it is apparent that whatever likes or dislikes may be, it will be necessary hereafter to plan our menu differently. It is a perfectly plain case of supply and demand. The population of the United States is growing much faster than its production of foods, and especially its production of meat. A few years ago we shipped abroad cargoes of beef, pork and mutton vastly in excess of shipments of the present day—and this was so simply because the home demand could not consume the entire production. Today we are consuming nearly all of the meat produced in this country, and very little is left for export. It is only a question of a short time when the United States will be unable to feed itself—that is, when we will have more people with appetites for three meals a day than we can raise grain and meat for.

The allies, on the contrary, are in exactly the reverse position. They are flushed with victory, and thus far have managed to stick together admirably, submerging any differences that may exist as to the division of the spoils. They may, and probably will, quarrel over this question after peace is declared, but if they can continue to work together as well in the coming months as they have since the beginning of the war they will probably get everything they started after.

The line of Lechitza, now extending across the narrow neck of land east of Constantinople appears to be well-jumped for defending a position naturally strong. But the superior numbers of the allies, their military efficiency, and their wonderful esprit de corps, renders almost certain the ultimate capture of Adrianople, which of course would be followed almost immediately by the taking of Constantinople. And when this happens history will be made. Four centuries of Moslem misrule in Europe will have come to an end, and the Turk will have been driven back into Asia where he belongs, both historically and in accord with the eternal fitness of things. The downfall of a once mighty empire is a spectacle to be viewed with conflicting emotions under any circumstances, but in this case there will be less regret throughout the civilized world than if the disaster had occurred to any other nation.

POSTAL FRAUDS

POSTMASTER GENERAL HITCHCOCK declares, in his last annual report, that in the last two years more than one thousand persons have been arrested for using the mails for fraudulent purposes, and estimates that the losses to the public through their illicit operations amounted to more than $100,000,000. Some time ago the Postoffice Department adopted a policy of prosecuting such individuals instead of merely issuing fraud orders against them, and this procedure resulted in the investigation during the last fiscal year of more than 4,000 cases involving schemes of fraud. Mr. Hitchcock declares that these investigations and the resulting prosecutions and convictions have had the effect of stamping out, for the time being, most of the swindling done through the mails.

He renews the recommendation, made in his previous annual report, that the work of investigating frauds committed through the mails should be transferred, by act of Congress, to the Department of Justice. His latest charge that Christian Science is responsible for the prevalence of syphilis, no one need consider seriously. The dean has a penchant for placing the responsibility for all the ills of humanity at the door of Christian Science, and why he excepted bad temper from this category is a source of surprise to those familiar with his intrusions. The dean charges that Christian Science denounces "such evil facts as sin and disease." It might surprise this critic to know that Christian Science does not believe in the "sin and disease" of the human experience, but they deny that God created them or that they exist as a part of God's spiritual universe, and they further know that a better understanding of God will wipe them out entirely.

If we were given the opportunity, which the use of the mails affords, a good many thousand swindlers in this country would be out of jobs. One cannot turn the pages of a magazine nowadays without seeing the advertisement of from one to a dozen prolific liars who promise unlimited returns from a small investment in the capital stock of some industrial, mining, oil, or other "proposition" which is certain to pay several thousand per cent dividends within six months. A few years ago the state of Kansas took official cognizance of the swindlers by enacting the Blue Sky law. Thereby, long and exceedingly warm for the taking, was a temptation to unadventurous stock jobbers to Kansas, farmers to exchange their farms for money.

It would be well for Colorado and all other states to follow the example of Kansas. The Postoffice Department appears to be doing everything in its power to bring the swindlers to account. But it cannot reach more than a small fraction of them. It should not be a difficult matter for the legislature of this or any other state to enact such a law as would drive the peddlers of worthless stocks out of business.

THE WAR RESUMED

AN INDUSTRIOUS, poor man has figured out that during the five years following the panic of 1893 the cost of living decreased, and that at the same time savings deposits increased only $220,000,000, or 13 per cent. But in the five prosperous years, 1902-1907, although the cost of living continued to climb, savings deposits increased more than $800,000,000, or 31 per cent.

It may be true that adversity lowers prices, but it certainly is not true that adversity is therefore good for the country. The people spend—and in some measure, they save—in proportion to their earnings. A reduced pay check in the workingman's envelope never yet brought him happiness and prosperity merely through its imposition of the necessity of economy. It is easy enough to talk of the ways and means whereby the householder can reduce the cost of living by using cheap cuts of meat, etc., but the plain fact is that most of this talk is bungo, and whether it is or not, nobody who is used to an established standard of living can bring himself to a lowering of that standard without a decided wrench. ### SAYS GOLDEN RULE SUMMARIZES DUTIES

Prof. Palmer Gives Address
Before the Senior Class of Colorado College

The most complete summary of man's duties that has ever been made, said Prof. G. H. Palmer, in his lecture before the senior class at Colorado College. Yesterday, in Henshaw Hall, it contained in the golden rule. This resolution is maintained by Professor Palmer in spite of the fact that Kant regards the golden rule as morally wrong, since it is said to emphasize individual instead of social desires.

"But the golden rule was not shaped for philosophers," said Professor Palmer, "but for the common man. Its great aim is to make him think of some one beside himself. It does not deny that the whole is less than the part. It simply states in easily comprehensible form that all can understand, that the strongest moral code that mankind has yet been able to evolve."

"I think the golden rule better states this moral code than does Kant's categorical imperative. So act as if that were to be made, by your doing it, a universal law." Kant seeks so constantly to exalt righteously as in his almost to topple it over backward. In the course of lectures I shall consider the golden rule as the fullest expression of duty yet made."

Many Attend Lectures.

As at his first lecture, Tuesday evening, there was a large attendance of outsiders at yesterday's lecture. Professor Palmer announced that, while he has fully presented his subject, he wants criticism from those who have been attending the series. "We must do something to gain anything," he said, "and these lectures will accomplish little if you never hear them. They impress what you think."

In beginning his lecture yesterday, Professor Palmer distinguished between duty and duties, saying that while it is comparatively easy to discover what duty is, it is often extremely difficult to determine what particular duty will at a given time strengthen the whole. "Duty is the same for all," he said, "but must contribute to the whole, but the application of the law is widely contrasted with the law itself."

Duties must be a matter of experience. To err in one's duty is not a sin; it is merely a mistake. The care is education. "We do not need to rely on individual experience. No one lives to himself; is self-sufficient. We must rely on the experience that mankind has accumulated. While all our experiences are in some sense peculiar to ourselves, yet in a general way they have been repeated over and over again. From the results of these individual experiences throughout the ages have been classified certain codes, certain habits, that have been found best for the race."

Habits Need Readjustment.

These habits of the race need readjustment from time to time, to determine whether they meet the needs of the age. But shall the individual readjust his own wisdom against the accumulated wisdom of the ages? We come into a world already morally distinguished, and this moral organization is the most precious possession. The blasphemous against the Holy Ghost is to refuse to recognize this moral organization.

"There are two great moral codes that have been bequeathed us from the past—one from the Hebrews, one from the Greeks; the one embodying the laws of that people that has showed the greatest religious genius of all nations, the other the inheritance from that people that developed the passion to know, to sense truth and beauty, to develop all the powers of the individual.

"The moral code of the Hebrews is embodied in the ten commandments, which take up ten different lines of strengthening the community. We rightly regard these commandments as God-given; they all repose on the thought of a universal personality. He who lacks reverence for these commandments, who looks upon them as mere agreements that can lightly be set aside, is a sinner. And a sinner is one who lacks understanding."

"But while we must regard these commandments as obligatory, we can show them reverence only by criticizing them. Criticism must not be considered simply as destructive; its main purpose is to judge. Jesus himself criticizes the ten commandments, in order to give us a better understanding of them."

Comprise Only Fundamentals.
"Do we have only ten duties? Are there only ten ways of strengthening the community?" No; the ten commandments do not attempt to cover all duties; they comprise only those that are most fundamental. And there are omissions, even here; there is, for instance, no command requiring truth-telling. The command against bearing false witness does not cover this omission.

"Why do we not even of yourselves judge that which is right?" Jesus asks. And he points out that some of the commandments are more obligatory than others. It is a duty to keep the Sabbath day holy, but it may become the duty to heal the sick on that day. The community cannot become strong without some day of rest; nor which God is specially honored, but it makes no difference which day is so observed.

"Jesus shows that the ten commandments refer especially to outward acts, while it is the condition of mind, the inward actions, that is in itself wrong. It is the work of Jesus to point out that the holy life is measured by this interior habit of mind. The ten commandments may lead to error; the attitude of the heart is the important thing."

"He shows that the ten commandments can be reduced to two, and these are both comprehended in the golden rule. He does not deprecate the ten commandments; he simply draws the distinction between duty and duties. And it may be he has propounded a higher law than the golden rule when he says: This is my commandment, that ye love one another even as I have loved you."

CIVIC LEAGUE TO WORK FOR CHANGES IN CHARTER

The Civic League will begin a movement to secure the required signatures for petitions to the amendments to the charter to be voted on at the coming election. This announcement was made yesterday by Mrs. Lillian H. Kerr, chairman of the committee on constitutional change. Several proposals recently were submitted to the council by the committee requesting that the city attorney be directed to take the necessary action to enact them into law.

The preferential voting system and the election of each commissioner to the particular department to which he aspires are the two proposals to be submitted as amendments. Petitions signed by at least 5 per cent of those voting at the last election must be presented in order to amend the charter, which means that 45 signatures must be secured to each petition. The petitions must be presented by March 1 according to the law.
